

Councillor Cynthia Phillips

I have lived in Lower Loughor for 39 years, both my sons were educated in Casllwchwr Primary and Penyrheol Comprehensive Schools. I have worked as a bar maid, in a number of Gorseinon's bars and Workingmens Clubs.

For some time, I was a labourer in Smiths Crisps.

After some years of ill health, I had the opportunity to return to education, a journey that took me to Swansea University. I am a former adult teacher and dyslexia consultant.

I became a Community Councillor to help the people I live amongst.

For nearly 20 years I was a Community Councillor for Lower Loughor. Now I represent Upper Loughor. My own disability has given me a great interest in the rights of disabled people, regardless of their disability. I am now retired and a full-time carer for my disabled son.
